

A THOUGHT
None pities him that's in the naure, who warned before,
would not beware.—Herick.

Hope Star

WEATHER
Arkansas—Partly cloudy and warmer in west and central portions Monday night; Tuesday cloudy and warmer.

VOLUME 37—NUMBER 79
GAP—Means Associated Press
CNA—Means Newspaper Enterprise Assn
HOPE, ARKANSAS, MONDAY, JANUARY 13, 1926
Consolidated January 13, 1926
Star of Hope 1899 Press, 1927
PRICE 5c COPY

BANKHEAD LAW UNDISTURBED

Here and There

Editorial By ALEX. H. WASHBURN

EDITOR THE STAR: You misinterpreted my letter about the conditions of youth in our city.

Wiley Post Took Stratosphere Air Routes Seriously

Billy Parker Opens 4-Article Series on Late World-Circling Flier

"MAN FROM MARS" Post Pops Up in Desert Wearing His Strange Flying Helmet

Wiley Post was a flier of the future. Death in an Alaskan air crash last summer ended a career that had brought much to aviation. Most newspaper readers knew of Post's four unsuccessful efforts to fly across the continent in the stratosphere, but little has been said of the real success of those "failures." This is first in a series of four articles by Billy Parker, aeronautical engineer, flier and co-worker of Post, on the last great ventures of that globe-trotter.

BY BILLY PARKER
(Copyright, 1925, by the Associated Press)

Whistling, screaming, diving down out of the stratosphere, a long trail of smoke streaming behind her, came the famous old Winnie Mae of Oklahoma. Had you been there to see her, there is no doubt you would have thought her no fire, for no ship ever trailed such a column of smoke without flames ahead of her. But no one saw her, for this drama was staged far out over the desert in eastern California on the morning of February 22, 1923. In that ship, blinded by burning oil and handicapped by a useless engine and cumbersome stratosphere tugs, sat Wiley Post. He was calmly debating what to do in order to damage his beloved ship the least. He was not worried. Wiley never worried.

Landed in Dry Lake But down and down he came, headed for the only spot he knew best on that section of the country, Murrie dry lake. As he approached its flat surface, he saw a lone automobile stranded in the sand. Circling and shipping to check his speed, Post came to a perfect landing on the belly of the ship about 200 yards from the motor car. (Post had dropped the landing gear after the take-off to reserve wind resistance.) He believed the ship was safe, and as he had more than 300 gallons of gasoline aboard, he climbed out hurriedly, preferring to watch the confusion from a distance. Once outside he found all the smoke was caused by burning lubricating oil.

(Continued on page three)

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS
REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

J. S. Gibson Drug Company Observes 50th Anniversary

Mr. Gibson Opened Hope Drugstore January 15, 1886, in Same Stand

CELEBRATES EVENT

Store Particularly Invites 12 or 15 Who Were Customers 50 Years Ago

The John S. Gibson Drug company is celebrating its 50th anniversary Wednesday, January 15. In January, 1886, Mr. Gibson opened his drugstore on South Elm street, and has been actively engaged in business at this location ever since. The company has made extensive plans for celebrating this event and will have special gifts of candy for the women and children and cigars for the men during the birthday party on Wednesday. A special display has been arranged in the store's windows, showing several pieces of paraphernalia used by Mr. Gibson in his drug work when he first started in the business 50 years ago. Mr. Gibson said Monday there are 12 or 15 persons in the county who started trading with him in 1886 who are still trading with him today. He said that he was especially anxious for them to attend his celebration on Wednesday.

Rudyard Kipling Is Seriously Ill

Famed Author of "Mandalay" Taken to Hospital Monday

LONDON, Eng.—(P)—Rudyard Kipling, Britain's famous bard of adventure in India, became seriously ill Monday and underwent an emergency operation in a London hospital for a gastric disorder.

The poet, who observed his 70th birthday anniversary just two weeks ago, was stricken in his suite at the Browns hotel and, in a semi-conscious condition, was taken in an ambulance to Central Middlesex hospital Monday morning.

At noon a bulletin said the patient was "doing as well as could be expected."

Rev. Holt Resigns Local Pastorate

Will Leave First Christian Church After 17 Months' Service

The Rev. Guy D. Holt, pastor of the First Christian Church of Hope, tendered his resignation to the church congregation Sunday morning, effective within 30 days. The Rev. Mr. Holt had been pastor of the church for the past 17 months, coming here from Memphis, Tenn. The resignation came as a shock to the congregation and to his friends in Hope who will regret his leaving. The Rev. Mr. Holt told the congregation that he felt his usefulness to the church here had been served, and that he believed he could better serve at some other location. "I have not accepted the pastorate of any other church and have no particular place in mind at present," he said.

Fascists Tied Up by African Rains

Lack of Water, Heat, Malaria Are Factors, However, in Desert Areas

By the Associated Press
The Fascist invaders of Ethiopia, their campaigns hampered by weather on the two main fronts, were reported Monday to be pushing aerial attacks on the southwestern river valley settlements. Complicated for the invaders by the lack of water in the terrific heat of the desert, and malarial fevers. The Lone Star Cowboys, popular team feature on radio station KWKH, hereafter, will appear in concert Friday night, January 17, at Emmet High School. Their engagement is sponsored by the Emmet Baptist church.

Director

E. F. McFaddin

McFaddin Attends International Body

Hope Man in Chicago for Mid-Year Meeting of Directors of Rotary

The board of directors of Rotary International will hold its mid-year business meeting during the week of January 13 at the Rotary headquarters in Chicago. Edward F. McFaddin of Hope, a director of Rotary International, will be in attendance. He is an attorney and was formerly assistant attorney general of Arkansas. For the first time in 25 years a vacancy has occurred on the board, due to the death on December 3rd of John A. Crabtree of Walsall, England. His place as director has been filled by the election of H. E. Galloway of Gateshead-on-Tyne, England, to fill the term expiring next June. Five nominees for next year's board of directors are also to be selected, from countries outside the United States, Canada and Britain and Ireland. These countries chose their directors at the annual convention in June. The location of the 1927 convention is one of the important decisions before the board. The Rotary Club of London, England, is extending an urgent invitation. This year's convention will be held at Atlantic City June 22 to 26. All members of the board are expected to be present but two—first vice president Kenneth J. Young of Cape Town, South Africa, and P. A. Krause, Osnaburg, Denmark. The other members of the board are: President, Ed. R. Johnson, Roanoke, Virginia; second vice president Joe R. Carles, Barcelona, Spain; third vice president Charles L. Wheeler, San Francisco, California; directors—W. W. Emerson, Winnipeg, Canada; Manuel Gaete Fagelde, Santiago, Chile; H. E. Galloway, Gateshead-on-Tyne, England; Henry James Guthrie, Dunedin, New Zealand; Robert L. Hill, Columbia, Missouri; Mr. McFaddin, Hope, Arkansas; George W. Olinger, Denver, Colorado; Emmett Richards, Alpena, Michigan; and Amos O. Squire, Ossining, New York.

After the board meeting President Johnson and some of the directors will make tours visiting Rotary clubs. Director Olinger will leave the last part of January for South Africa. Director Gaete Fagelde will take back with him to Santiago, Chile, Paul P. Harris, the founder and president-emeritus of Rotary, to attend the first regional conference of Rotarians in Latin-America, to be held there early in March. President Johnson is scheduled for a trip through northern Europe.

Hope and Prescott to Play Tuesday

Major Basketball Schedule Will Be Opened on Local School Court

The Hope High School basketball team will open its major schedule here Tuesday night against the Prescott Curly Wolves. The game starts at 7:30. The contest will be played in the high school gymnasium. Friday night the Bobcats will take on Texarkana Ark. High School on the local floor. Thereafter two games each will be played at home. Coach Roy Hammons said Monday that he would announce the complete schedule this week, which will include some of the strongest teams in the state. Coach Hammons expressed belief that his 1926 team is stronger than last year's aggregation which went to the finals in District 10 tournament. This year's team is composed of four lettermen, including Reese, Turner, Stone and Carline. Other prospective stars are Ramsey, Galloway, Bright, Holly and Ponder.

Bonus to Be Paid in $50 Bonds, Is Senate Proposal

Senator Harrison Predicts This Bill Will Be Enacted Into Law

NO HIKE IN TAXES

Measure Reported to Offer Bonds Maturing at Face Value in 1945

WASHINGTON—(P)—Administration forces introduced in the senate Monday a new bonus bill providing full payment of the face value of the bonus certificates in immediately-redeemable $50-bonds. Senator Harrison, who introduced the bill, predicted it would be "enacted into law." The Mississippi said no new taxes would be necessary. Details of the proposed substitute for the veterans' bill passed by the house which provided no means of paying the estimated $2,200,000,000 owing to World war veterans, continued guarded closely. The basic principle, however, was for payment of full maturity value in bonds of small denominations, with bonds redeemable in full or in part at the holder's discretion, with interest running to 1945 for those not cashed immediately. There were reports that administration leaders were holding out for payment of less than face value, but this could not be confirmed. Administration leaders were said to be seeking a bill that would meet executive approval. The baby bond idea was advanced in the belief that many veterans would hold a substantial part of their bonds, thereby easing the immediate strain upon the Treasury.

5-Year Sentence for Arson Upheld

Court Sustains Ben Dame Conviction—Other Hearings Are Denied

LITTLE ROCK—(P)—The Arkansas Supreme Court affirmed Monday a five-year sentence assessed against Ben Dame for the $20,000 burning last April of the Hotel Randolph at Pocatopolis. The tribunal refused a rehearing for A. T. Hudspeht, former northwest Arkansas banker under sentence of one year for accepting deposits in an insolvent bank. No decision was handed down on a petition for rehearing in the case of Bubblers Clayton and M. C. Carruthers, Mississippi county negroes, sentenced to death for attacking a young white woman near Blytheville. A rehearing was denied B. M. Kitchens in his suit against the City of Pocatopolis. The court ruled against him several weeks ago and held that the city did not have to obtain a permit from the State Utilities Commission to proceed with the sale of bonds for construction of a municipal utility plant. The supreme court held that Hendrix college is entitled to all assets, valued at more than $100,000 of Wallace Institute, Van Buren, which went out of existence during the Civil war.

Hauptmann Loses, May Get Reprieve

Court of Pardons Rejects Clemency—Governor Reads Up on Law

Trenton, N. J.—(P)—Bruno Richard Hauptmann's chances for at least a two-year extension of life beyond next Friday night—the date set for his execution for the kidnap-killing of baby Charles A. Lindbergh—grew measurably Sunday night from a previously expressed attitude of reprieve. In the aftermath of a denial of clemency by the state Court of Pardons Saturday night, Gov. Harold G. Hoffman said there were "plenty of precedents" for an eleventh-hour stay by him. He previously had expressed

Grand Master of Masons to Visit

Rev. Conrad Glover Is to Be Guest of Hope Lodge Tuesday Night

The Rev. Conrad Glover, most worshipful grand master of Arkansas Masonry, will visit Whitfield Lodge No. 239 Tuesday night, January 14. It was announced Monday. The Rev. Mr. Glover is pastor of the First Baptist church in Sheridan, and has been active in Masonic work in Arkansas for many years. Last November he was honored with election as grand master.

Soil Conservation New Basis of Farm Adjustment Payments

Land Would Be Withdrawn from Commercial Cultivation, at Equitable Rates, to Promote Building Up of Fertility

WASHINGTON—(P)—A program based on government-subsidized soil conservation was approved unanimously Sunday night by farm leaders called to advise with the administration on a substitute for AAA. A bill drafted secretly two days ago by New Deal lawyers will be revised to embody the legislative recommendations of the 100 spokesmen for the nation's major farm organizations. The farm meeting called for retention of "valid" provisions of the adjustment act whose processing taxes and benefit payments were outlawed by the supreme court; "further expansion" of foreign markets for surplus crops; and new taxes on processors of livestock and dairy products. The farm leaders suggested that congress "provide adequate funds by appropriation," but added that many matters "including the money question" were left "for the continuing action and attention of our ever-alert farm organizations." Told by Secretary Wallace that they were "now building in a much more permanent way than was possible in March, 1923," when the original AAA was evolved, the farm spokesmen cheered as they adjourned their two-day session. Chester C. Davis, AAA administrator, told newsmen as he emerged from the meeting that "I think the principles in this report will do the job."

Elk Major Points

The program: 1. Congress would empower the secretary of agriculture to provide for rental and withdrawal from commercial production—at equitable rates—land necessary to promote soil conservation and to balance domestic production with demand "at profitable prices." Three methods for payment of cash to farmers were suggested. 2. Congress would appropriate "adequate funds"—estimated at about $500,000,000 for this year—for the soil

District Agents to Meet on Thursday

22 Speakers Are Listed for 3-Day Event at Hope City Hall

A three-day district meeting of county and home demonstration agents of southwest Arkansas will be held in Hope Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week. Twenty-two speakers are listed on the program, including Dr. W. J. Roth of the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. Several department heads of the extension service of the University of Arkansas, College of Agriculture, are listed for speeches. The three-day session, starting at 9:30 a. m. Thursday, will be held in Hope city hall auditorium. Speakers expected to appear on the program: L. C. Baber, Little Rock; Dean Dan T. Gray, Fayetteville; Dr. C. M. Brannen, Fayetteville; Dr. R. M. Gile, Fayetteville; Dr. W. J. Roth, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.; Charles A. Sheffield, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.; J. H. Hall, Fayetteville; J. H. Beckman, J. V. Hightfill, D. J. Burleson, K. B. Ray, V. L. Grange, Elbert E. Karns, all of Fayetteville; R. D. Stevens, Claude Woolsey, C. C. Randall, all of Little Rock; G. H. Banks, Stuttgart; Aubrey Gates, M. W. Muldrow, J. W. Sargent, T. Roy Reid and J. L. Wright, all of Little Rock. County Agents expected to attend included: William McLaughlin, Hot Springs; Elmer McGriff, Mt. Ida; R. S. Hinkle, Waldron; Fred Debel, Moun. M. F. Stanford, DeQueen; Clyde Carterm, Nashville; C. L. Rogers, Asdown; J. B. Daniels, Texarkana; J. L. Hiler, Prescott. Jeff McDuffie, Arkadelphia; Phil Anderson, Malvern; O. L. Henderson, Lewisville; Charles Robinson.

Another Negro Is Held for Robbery

William Cannon Bound Over in DeVaughn Store Robbery Hearing

William Cannon, Negro, one of the last defendants in the Lee DeVaughn robbery, was held for action of the Hempstead county grand jury when arraigned in municipal court Monday on charge of burglary and grand larceny. Bond for Cannon was set at $400. Four other negroes connected with the robbery are either held in jail or under bond. Cannon was arrested last week near Hot Springs and returned here by Sheriff Jim Bearden. Other court procedure: Henry Thomason, drunkenness, pleaded guilty and fined $10. LeRoy Loudenmilk, petit larceny, fined $25 and sentenced to one day in jail. Loudenmilk was charged with theft of cloth from R. M. LeGrone & Co. C. E. Shaffer, reckless driving, pleaded guilty and fined $25. Fred Callum, possession of illegal liquor, pleaded guilty and fined $5. LeRoy Holmes, assault with intent to kill, held for action of the grand jury. Bond was fixed at $100. Holmes is accused of knifing Archie Hawkins. Basil I. Carr of Moscow, lost his nose during a fight and therefore wore one made of putty.

Injunction Plea of Texan Denied by Supreme Court

Hughes Cites Unanimous Opinion Lee Moor Failed to "Make a Case"

TAX IS RELEASED

200 Millions of Impounded Processing Taxes Ordered Returned

WASHINGTON—(P)—The supreme court dismissed Monday a case brought by Lee Moor, Texas planter, attacking the constitutionality of the Bankhead cotton production control act. Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes, explaining the Bankhead dismissal, said in the decision that Lee Moor, complaining Texas planter, had principally given only general testimony regarding his financial necessities. The trial court concluded that he had failed to make a case, it was recalled, and the appeals court agreed "upon an established principle that a mandatory injunction is not granted as a matter of right but is granted or refused in the exercise of judicial discretion." The supreme court accepted this view. Senator Bankhead, author of the cotton law, heard the action in the courtroom and said it means "we still have the Bankhead act on the statute books." "The Department of Agriculture," Bankhead said, "has power to save the cotton farmer by proceeding with the operation of the Bankhead act. It will save this year's crop."

Impounded Tax Released

WASHINGTON—(P)—The supreme court of the United States ruled Monday that 200 million dollars of processing taxes impounded by the courts must be returned to the taxpayers, refused to pass on the validity of the Bankhead cotton act at this time, and adjourned without ruling on the constitutionality of the Tennessee Valley Authority (TVA). The tax decision did not go into whether the processors had to prove that they passed the tax onto the consumers before they could recover, which was the main point of issue. The decision was handed down in a case brought by Louisiana rice millers. The result had no bearing on prospects for suits by processors to recover 1 billion 200 million dollars in taxes already collected under the defunct AAA. This question remains to be fought out in the lower courts. The justices were unanimous. The decision all agreed that review of the Bankhead case had been "imprudently granted." Another case involving a suit filed by Governor Eugene Talmadge of Georgia to give the court another opportunity to pass on it.

Tugwell Inspired by Arkansas Tour

Magnificent Land and People, Truthfully Declares Brain Truster

HELENA, Ark.—(P)—Dr. Rexford Guy Tugwell is decidedly sold on Arkansas and the opportunities it offers for the resettlement of home-hungry farm families on land where they can become self-sufficient and independent. The undersecretary of agriculture and national resettlement administrator never had been in Arkansas until he flew into Little Rock from Washington a week ago Sunday. He has spent the past week touring the state, and as he crossed the river into Mississippi this last week-end, he was ready to promise Regional Director T. Roy Reid almost anything he wanted to carry the resettlement program forward to a successful conclusion. "You've got a remarkable opportunity in this region," he said, "to demonstrate the resettlement program at its best. You can justify our land policy by accomplishment in this state alone. You have the two things needed, the land and the people—both of the right kind." Dr. Tugwell was not making a speech. He was not talking for publication. He was telling his regional director, with the enthusiasm of a man who had just had his eyes opened to the land resources of the cotton south, what he expected him to achieve with the materials at hand. Dr. Tugwell already had demonstrated he is a veteran "inspection tripper," not to be diverted by the usual routine of showing off projects to the big boss. He cleverly cut corners so he could go on to the things he wanted to see most, the land and the people. Budapest is on both sides of the Danube river. Buda is on one side and Pest on the other.

Hope Star

O Justice, Deliver Thy Herald From False Report!

Published every week-day afternoon by Star Publishing Co., Inc. (C. E. Palmer & Alex. H. Washburn), at The Star building, 212-214 South Walnut street, Hope, Arkansas.

C. E. PALMER, President
ALEX. H. WASHBURN, Editor and Publisher

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Hope, Arkansas Under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Definition: "The newspaper is an institution developed by modern civilization to present the news of the day, to foster commerce and industry, through widely circulated advertisements, and to furnish that check upon government which no constitution has ever been able to provide."—Col. R. R. McCormick.

Subscription Rate (Always Payable in Advance): By city carrier, per year 15c; per month 6c; one year $6.50. By mail, in Hempstead, Nevada, Howard, Miller and Lafayette counties, $3.50 per year; elsewhere $6.50.

Member of The Associated Press: The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein.

National Advertising Representatives: Arkansas Dailies, Inc., Memphis, Tenn., Starick Bldg.; New York City, 369 Lexington; Chicago, Ill., 75 E. Wacker Drive; Detroit, Mich., 338 Woodward Ave.; St. Louis, Mo., Star Bldg.

Charges on Tributes, Etc.: Charges will be made for all tributes, cards of thanks, resolutions, or memorials, concerning the departed. Commercial newspapers hold to this policy in the news columns to protect their readers from a deluge of space-taking memorials. The Star disclaims responsibility for the safe-keeping or return of any unsolicited manuscripts.

The Truth About Diet

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

Here's a cooking and health hint: If you want to get the most out of your vegetables, and still have the vitamins in them, cook them slowly in a fireless cooker. That saves both the juice of the vegetables and the vitamins, vitamin B-1 especially.

Vitamin B-1 is soluble in water. Therefore, when vegetables are cooked and the water in which they are boiled is thrown away, as much as half of the vitamin is lost.

Very high temperatures, also, will destroy vitamin B-1; therefore, vegetables should not be cooked in boiling water, if that vitamin is to be retained.

Many housewives add soda to the vegetables to preserve their color. But soda acts to destroy vitamin B-1. Drying, however, does not interfere with the presence of vitamin B-1.

Experiments prove that yeast, tomatoes, spinach, milk, cabbage, and turnips may be dried without any loss of the vitamin.

If, therefore, you eat a diet containing fruits, vegetables, milk and eggs, and if half of whatever bread and cereals you use are taken in form of whole grain rather than refined cereal and bread, you will get an ample supply of vitamin B-1.

Doctors have to be careful about vitamin B-1 with patients who are on a diet. A patient with typhoid fever or undulant fever, eating a diet that is greatly modified, will fail to get vitamin B-1 that he requires. There are instances of neuritis developing in such patients, after they have recovered from the fever, simply because they did not get the necessary vitamin B-1.

Persons who have been over-dosing themselves with thyroid extract to reduce weight may get the symptoms of neuritis, and people who overindulge in alcohol, and thereby avoid food, may also develop these symptoms. Those who are on restricted diets, therefore, should get extra amounts of vitamin B-1. Various concentrates have been developed for this purpose.

The prospective mother and the nursing mother, who do not wish to eat extremely large amounts of food, and thereby to gain excess weight, may well find out from the doctor whether they ought to take extra vitamin B-1.

Yeast and yeast extracts are among the richest substances in B-1. However, many manufacturers are not satisfied with furnishing vitamin B-1 alone, but they add mineral salts and other vitamins, with the hope of making something resembling a perfect food.

There is no warrant for shotgun mixtures of this type.

A Book a Day
By Bruce Catton

The chief trouble with this country, suggests the talented Miss Josephine Lawrence, is that it is jammed to the guards with a lot of durned fools who can't add two and two without getting eight.

Miss Lawrence sets forth this thesis very persuasively in a new novel, "If I Have Four Apples," and a right good novel it is.

Her subjects are a perfectly ordinary American family whose members are consistently and everlastingly unhappy because they simply can't learn that if you keep on spending more money than you earn you are going to wind up behind the eight ball.

Basically, the family's trouble is that it lacks sales resistance. It has forgotten that no matter how free a country this is, or how much "right" an American citizen may have to the good things of life, he isn't entitled to them if he can't pay for them.

The family simply persists in living beyond its means. It's white-collar family, painfully class-conscious; the fact that it might do without a car, electric gadgets, its own home, (ferry-built and over-priced) and so on, is beyond its comprehension.

It must "get ahead," and so, although it enjoys a steady income, it wallows in debt, is tormented by unending pressure, and is utterly miserable.

Miss Lawrence is not writing about the jobless. Her people aren't even poor. They just can't add. And their name is legion.

It is a fine, timely, level-headed job Miss Lawrence has done. Her book is published by Stokes, at $2.50.

Who can a child's thoughts? We

Your Children

By Olive Roberts Barton

think of them as open books betraying every change of feeling. We expect joy to register unconfining when they are happy—shouts, grins and all the rest; think that astonishment will show in round eyes and open mouths that perplexity means a frown and humiliation lowered glances.

How wrong we are! Actually most children are regular poker-faces. Most of the time, at any rate. The two emotions that they make no attempt to cover are dismay and "irritability," the latter being a sense of the ridiculous and its immediate response, laughter. Under "dimay" come pain and disappointment. These all being elemental, there is seldom any inhibition about them.

Cover Other Feelings
Otherwise children prefer to cover their feelings. It is more marked on some small folk than on others. There is, of course, the natural, spontaneous child, usually one without too much training, who, savage-like, gives complete vent to his feelings. But as civilization has taught man to mask his thoughts, so has life, even a short one, inhibited our children from showing theirs. More than that; the child does it from a sense of protection also. He prefers to draw into himself when people are so anxious to comment on what he does. He wants attention, but not that sort of attention. He claims the privacy of his feelings.

Do not let this fool you, parents. Children do forget things in the excitement of living, but they also remember. They remember extreme joy and extreme sorrow. By association of ideas, too, they remember small unimportant matters because because they have occurred at the same time a more impressive event happened.

Amazing Memory
A mother shows a small child some wonder of the world. Perhaps a litter of baby-pigs or a bear dancing to a street organ. He may simply stare and not say a word. She is disappointed because he seems so apathetic. All the coaxing in the world won't get a rise out of him for days. He goes on about his business as though nothing had happened.

Then one day a year later, or maybe more, he calls out from the back seat, "Mother, there is that place where we saw the bear." She has forgotten the street and buildings, or the farm, but he remembers. At the time, the delight so silently registered on his mind-plate (without anyone suspecting it took other things on the film with it too).

One never can judge a child's happiness or misery by his face. If more parents realized this, they would not take it for granted that he has no cures or worries. If he will not eat, or is a restless sleeper or is generally not well it may be without any physical cause at all, but instead, a deep unhappiness that needs delicate handling and understanding.

Glorifying Yourself
By Alicia Hart

When you start on a cruise or a vacation in Florida or Bermuda don't forget to pack dark glasses, an anti-wrinkle cream and some kind of eye lotion or wash. The glare of bright sunshine on sandy beaches and water is likely to cause eyestrain that not only often causes wrinkles and fine lines.

Always put suntan lotion on eyelids and underneath your eyes as well as on face and throat. Use rich tissue, anti-wrinkle or special eye cream around them at night. Rinse at least twice a day with lotion or weak solution of boracic powder and water. Don't read on the beach or a sun deck.

Apply cream around the eyes with rotary, clock-wise strokes, placing fingertips against the point of the eyebrow nearest the eyes and circling around. Specialists in beauty shop facials all press firmly at the starting point, then lighten their touch the rest of the way around. The pressure, they say, tends to relax tense muscles in the forehead and eyes.

Remember that patting often will alleviate vertical lines just above the bridge of the nose. Put on a thick layer of cream, then, with fingertips or a well-padded pater, pat briskly until most of the cream has been absorbed. Repeat every night, if

What Future Students Will Be Up Against

For horizontal lines across the brow, apply cream, then massage upward and outward for a least five minutes each night.

Hats in The Ring
GAINESVILLE, Texas.—(AP)—Every occupant of an elective office in the Cooke county courthouse has indicated he will be a candidate again in the Democratic primary next July.

Bovine: "That new farm hand is terribly dumb."
Equine: "How's that?"
B: "He found some milk bottles in the grass and insisted he had found a cow's nest."

Mother: "Now remember while I'm away dear, that if you pet and drink and smoke men will call you fast."
Daughter: "Yes, just as fast as they can get to a telephone."

A colored agent was summoned before the insurance commissioner.
"Don't you know," said the commissioner, "that you can't sell insurance without a state license?"
"Bos," said the darkey, "you said a moufful, I knowed I couldn't sell it, but I didn't know the reason why."

With All My Love

by Mary Raymond
Copyright NEA 1935

BEGIN HERE TODAY
DANA STANLEY, divorced from her husband, DR. SCOTT STANLEY, is making plans to marry rich RONALD MOORE, NANCY, Dana's half-sister, has loved Ronnie hopelessly for years.

Dana had left her husband, believing he loved PAULA LONG. Scott thinks Dana was tired of being poor.

He becomes a partner of the town's outstanding physician, DR. OSBORNE, and she agrees to marry him.

Racing home to prevent the marriage, Scott's car crashes with another car that had taken a turn on the wrong side of the road.

Scott escapes injury. He takes the injured occupant of the other car to the city and angrily orders the injured occupant to be taken to the hospital.

Dana fears of the accident and rushes to Scott, leaving Nancy to break the news to Ronnie. Ronnie asks Nancy to run away and marry him, and she agrees.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XLVII
THE roar of Ronnie's car brought Mrs. Cameron to the hall. A silent halt, heavy with the fragrance of flowers, "Ellen," she called, "look in the girls' rooms and tell me what you find."

Aunt Ellen, dressed in soft gray, which was reserved for state occasions, obeyed. Her voice quavered. "They're pretty much tumbled." "Yes, I expected that! What are the girls doing?"

"They're not here. Agatha. Has Ronnie come?" Aunt Ellen hoped the guilt in her heart would not sound in her voice.

"He's come and gone," Mrs. Cameron said. "So far as I can see both girls are gone, too. You might as well come down. I have an idea we're going to eat dinner alone."

Aunt Ellen suspected so, too. She had heard the telephone earlier in the evening, and she had felt fairly certain that it was Scott calling. Then the voices of Dana and Nancy had reached her. She couldn't hear what they were saying until just at the last Dana's excited voice had risen—asking about the car key.

Hurrying steps and then the front door closing. Dana had gone. She had expected her to go, but in a different way. She had pictured Scott coming and carrying her off gallantly and dashing. But modern young people avoided embarrassment and trouble. If he had phoned Dana to meet him somewhere, that was doubtless the best way.

But what was Nancy doing? Had she and Ronnie gone chasing after the runaway Dana and Scott?

AUNT ELLEN'S blue eyes held an excited sparkle. Absently she dipped a powder puff into a box of scented rice powder and dusted her face.

Two very much dressed-up old ladies faced each other across a table centered by a bowl of yellow roses.

Anyway, Aunt Ellen was thinking, as she cut into her broiled chicken, it was nice to have the table look as pretty as this; the silver so bright and shining and the best damask on.

At least she was going to enjoy this good dinner and then perhaps she would clear her conscience.

Dinner over, Aunt Ellen prepared to unbuckle. "Agatha," she said solemnly, "I'm going to tell you something that will shock and hurt you. Dana's not off getting married to Ronnie."

"It wouldn't surprise me a bit, if she isn't," Mrs. Cameron said, her voice unexpectedly calm. "Some strange things have been going on in this house lately. All because Scott Stanley is the kind to jump walls. He never stays put."

Aunt Ellen swallowed hard, but said nothing. "It was strange when you got up enough courage to leave the house today and let Scott know Dana was getting married."

"Agatha," Aunt Ellen stammered, her face crimson, "Agatha, I—" "Yes, I know," Mrs. Cameron's eyes glinted with amusement. "You were sure Dana was going to ruin her life. So you took things into your timid hands and went out to warn Scott."

"Agatha!" Mrs. Cameron raised her hand imperiously. "But the strangest thing of all is that you didn't take things into your hands, as you supposed. You never would have gone, but you were sent off, Ellen, by another woman as romantic as yourself—a woman, heaven help me, who waited until she was 70 years old before she got romantic about anything!"

"Agatha, you knew? You don't care. You wanted me to go!" "I do care. I'm a saddened old woman who has seen her hopes smashed and whose heart is troubled. But I'm human. I couldn't see my own flesh and blood suffer again. When I saw that silly grandchild of mine wasting away as her mother had done, grieving her life away—there wasn't anything else to do."

"So you said to me," Aunt Ellen mused, and then stopped. "I said you should know a woman didn't love one man all the rest of her life. Because that's what Dana's mother did, what you did. It runs in the Cameron blood to be like that. And I didn't want another wrecked life on my conscience. I watched you leave the house from the window, Ellen. If you hadn't gone, I'd have gone myself."

"Don't worry about me," Aunt Ellen said softly. "You and I have been happy together. And anyway, things are meant to be the way they are, I think."

"The doorbell rang. Both old ladies started nervously. The new maid came in holding a telegram in her hand. "You open it, Ellen," Mrs. Cameron said. "I can't. I have an idea it's an impudent message from Scott." The words were sharp, but her tone was kind. "No," Aunt Ellen replied, "it isn't." She was smiling broadly. "For goodness sake, read it aloud," commanded Mrs. Cameron. "Dear Aunt Ellen, Ronnie and I are off to find a parson. Please don't get excited. Just wait until we come home and give an explanation. We have a good one. Nancy and Ronnie."

"Well," gasped Mrs. Cameron weakly, "Well! I never in my life—" "So that was why!" Aunt Ellen exclaimed. "Ellen, you don't suppose Ronnie's marrying Nancy for spite?" "I don't suppose anything of the kind. Nancy is a darling girl. If you hadn't been so engrossed in marrying off Dana, and remarrying her, you would have seen how pretty Nancy had gotten to be. And now that I stop to think of it, it was as plain as the noses on our faces—which are the most prominent features we have—that she was in love with Ronnie all the time."

"I believe you're right," Mrs. Cameron agreed. "She was always talking about him, running him down, snapping Dana up when his name was mentioned. Of course! How blind we were."

THE sisters relaxed in chairs and rocked silently, happily for a while. The silence was broken by Mrs. Cameron. "When the winter breaks, you and I are going to take a trip. Now that our girls are married, and married well, there isn't any use in saving every penny we get our hands on. We'll enjoy ourselves."

"Florida—or California. When we start traveling, we'll likely want to go quite a distance from here."

"A trip anywhere would be lovely," Aunt Ellen said, her face flushing with excitement at the thought. How long had it been since she had put foot out of this city? She wouldn't stop to count! "And when we come back," Mrs. Cameron continued, "we'll want to fix up the old place, paint it and have the garden and grounds landscaped. We've got to keep up with the rest of our prosperous kin. And we don't want our great-grandchildren to be ashamed of this house."

"Our great-grandchildren," Aunt Ellen mused over the phrase. Well, in a way, the children of Dana and Scott would be her great-grandchildren. They both fell into a dream-filled silence, as vistas of the future widened and bloomed for them, seeing a rejuvenated old home with its gray columns turned to white again and reaching proudly up toward a sunny sky, flowers blooming about again in decorous beauty.

An old home growing older gracefully as all splendid places should!

(To Be Continued)

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

By Rodney Dutcher

WASHINGTON.—Weeks before the U. S. Supreme Court came crashing down on AAA, the small circle of secretaries and ex-secretaries to justices—a group far closer to the court than any other and practically the only pipeline through which its secrets conceivably might leak—was whispering with conviction that Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes was seriously worried about the court's prestige and future power.

Hughes, the story went, was afraid of the effect of further 5-to-4 decisions in vitally important cases and was willing to do almost anything in his power to avert them.

He felt that it might be difficult to preserve any belief in the court's infallibility if its critics were able to point out that the judgment of one man was determining the economic and political future of the nation; that plausibility would be lent to charges of one-man judicial dictatorship; and that aid and comfort would be given to would-be curbers of the court.

Point to Vermont Case
Consequently the boys were whispering, when Hughes found himself about to be on the short end of a 5-to-4 decision he would be willing to move over to the majority, realizing that he couldn't change the result by dissenting, but that in concurring he might do much to preserve the court and its power.

When the Vermont income tax case came up for ruling—an astonishing curb on state legislative power—the world quickly went around that such reasoning had led Hughes to desert the "liberal minority"—of which he, along with Brandeis, Stone, and Cardozo, had been considered a member since Roberts delivered the slashing majority opinion against the railroad pensions act—and thus effect a 6-to-3 decision.

And of course now the story in the same quarters is that the 6-to-3 decision against the government on AAA probably would have stood 5-to-4 if Hughes hadn't felt it would be ruinous to the court and therefore sought to save the court's face.

But the secret of just how Hughes felt about AAA will repose in his own bosom and the "inside dope" passed along herewith is presented only as a subject for interesting speculation.

Hughes' Book Quoted
It is considered significant by some lawyers that Hughes did not read the majority opinion in this case, which may consider the most important supreme ruling since the Civil War. Previously he had read the opinions in all important New Deal cases.

If his reason had been in the AAA opinion or much as in preservation of the court's position, it is argued, he would have insisted on expounding the majority view instead of leaving it to Roberts.

In the past Hughes has written that the court had inflicted at least three grievous wounds upon itself, including the Dred Scott decision.

And in his book, "The Supreme Court of the United States"—written between his terms on the bench—he also said:

"There are some who think it desirable that dissents should not be disclosed, as they detract from the force of the judgment. Undoubtedly they do. When unanimity can be obtained without sacrifice of conviction, it strongly commends the decision to public confidence."

Upholds Dissent Custom
Hughes went on, however, to uphold the custom of public dissent and to say that such right preserved the individuality of justices and that "a dissent in a court of last resort is an appeal to the intelligence of a future day," observing that "many dissents had become eventual law."

Every supreme court justice becomes impressed tremendously with the importance of the court and with his responsibility for preserving its majesty and popular prestige.

That's why so many justices—the late Justice Taft, as well as Hughes—have labored so hard to secret conferences for unanimous opinions.

Perhaps in the chief justice's private papers, long after he is dead, it will be learned how he really felt about AAA.

Meanwhile, the only fellows who pretend to know anything about the matter insist that there will be very few 5-to-4 decisions while Hughes is on the bench.

Columbus to Play Spring Hill Friday
North County Team Will Appear on Spring Hill Basketball Court

The probable starting Spring Hill lineup: Martin and Mitchell or Hamilton, forwards; Moore, center; Walker. The Spring Hill High School basketball team will meet Columbus Friday afternoon on the Spring Hill court, Coach W. E. O'Steen announced Monday.

Yocum and Huckabee, guards. Coach O'Steen of Spring Hill announced that he was anxious to schedule games with any team in the county. He also asked games for the Spring Hill girls team, coached by Miss Octavia Ballard.

District Agents to
(Continued from page one)

Magnolia; R. A. Cody, El Dorado; Paul Coruth, Camden; Walter Cooper, Murfreesboro; Ben Rice, Perryville; Jim Tompkins, Texarkana; John Measles, Magnolia; Roger Crum, El Dorado.

Home Demonstration agents expected include: Mrs. Sarah Tassell, Hot Springs; Mrs. Mary Yates, Lewisville; Mrs. Tommie S. Worth, Texarkana; Mrs. Beatrice Byson, Ashdown; Miss Dorothy Spann, DeQueen; Miss Jewell Davis, Mona; Mrs. Myrtle Watson, El Dorado; Miss Eloise Stanford, Camden.

Miss Euna Harrell, Waldron; Miss Ola Mae Walton, Mt. Ida; Miss Hazel Craig, Nashville; Miss Katherine Heath, Prescott; Miss Thelma Alford, Texarkana.

Mrs. Mildred Wike, Arkadelphia.

Paul Dean Likely to Quit Baseball

Has Plenty of Money and Wants to Retire Soon to Arkansas Farm

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—(AP)—Paul—not Dizzy—Dean promises to the the 1936 "problem child" of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Miss Vera Whelan, Mader; Miss Lenora Abound, Danville; Miss Melva Bullington, Magnolia; Miss Marian Harper, Danville; Miss Eutha Ods, Magnolia.

Others expected are: Miss Sue Marshall, Miss June Donohue, Miss Sybil Bates, Miss Frances Stanley, Miss Ella Posey and Miss Etna McLaugh.

SIDE GLANCES

By George Clark

"I told him if he ever kept me waiting again I'd do something horrible. What do you think it ought to be?"

Today's Pattern

By eliminating the pockets and choosing a perky tie in contrast to the frock can be made even dressier looking than as sketched. It has set-in sleeves, turn-back collar, full blouse and puffed skirt. Make of sheer wool, printed or plain silk or cotton. Patterns are sized 12 to 30. Size 14 requires 4 1/2 yards of 29-inch fabric; long sleeves, but only 4 1/4 yards with short sleeves, and 7-8 yard ribbon.

To secure a PATTERN and STEP-BY-STEP SEWING INSTRUCTIONS, fill out the coupon below, bring same to MENTON THE NAME OF THIS NEWSPAPER.

The WINTER PATTERN BOOK, with a complete selection of late dress designs, now is ready. It's 15 cents when purchased separately. Or, if you want to order it with the pattern above, add just an additional 10 cents with the coupon.

TODAY'S PATTERN BUREAU,
11-13 Sterling Place, Brooklyn, N. Y.
Enclosed is 15 cents in coin for
Pattern No. Size
Name Address
City State
Name of this newspaper

Society

Mrs. Sid Henry Telephone 321

The limit of life is brief; 'Tis the red in the red roseleaf; 'Tis the gold in the sunset sky; 'Tis the flight of a bird on high; Yet we may fill the space With such an infinite grace That the red will be in all time, And the gold thru the ages shine, And the bird fly swift and straight To the lilies of God's own gate. —Selected.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Jones had as Sunday guests, their mother, Mrs. S. E. Bair of Texarkana.

Mrs. G. A. Hobbs was a Saturday visitor in Texarkana.

The Oglesby P. T. A. will meet at 3:30 Tuesday afternoon at the Oglesby School.

Mr. and Mrs. Waddle Cunningham announce the arrival of a little daughter, Donna Lou, Friday, January 10, at Josephine hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ewene had as Sunday guests, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Sharp and little son of Mooringsport, La.

Miss Pearl Blackwell of Texarkana was the week end guest of her sister, Mrs. G. A. Hobbs and Mr. Hobbs.

Mrs. B. C. Acker has returned from a week's visit with her daughter, Mrs. E. J. Becker and Mr. Baker in Little Rock.

Miss Claudia Corp of Texarkana was the Sunday guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Corp and other home folks.

Dr. and Mrs. J. G. Martindale and

1/2 PRICE SALE
ON ALL DRESSES
THE GIFT SHOP
(Mrs. C. P. Holland)

WANTED—HEADING BOLTS
White Oak—Whisky and Oil grade Overcup, Post Oak and Red Oak. Round Sweet Gum Blocks. For prices and specifications, See HOPE HEADING COMPANY, Phone 215 Hope, Ark.

Hi, Folks, I'll see you here next Sunday... signed, Shirley Temple.

SAEGER

NOW

Matinee and 2:30 Tues 15c

Collegiate
PENNER-OAKIE SPARKS-LANGFORD

IT'S MY TREAT

WED-NITE

2 for 35c

CHARLIE CHAN'S SECRET
WARNER OLAND

3 ★ SHORT UNITS ★ 3

son, Jud, were week end guests of Mrs. Martindale's brother, Judge Dexter Bush and Mrs. Bush in Texarkana.

Miss Allene Campbell, representing the H. W. Gossary Co. of Dallas, Texas, was the week end guest of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Coop and friends.

Jimmie Harbin spent Sunday with friends in Hendrix College, Conway.

The Althean and Gleaners, classes in the First Baptist Sunday school will have a social meet at 7:30 Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Albert Jewell 222 N. McRae street.

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Lipscomb and Miss Maude Lipscomb spent Sunday visiting with relatives and friends in Little Rock.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Brady were Sunday guests of their daughter, Miss Mary Joe in Hendrix College, Conway.

Mr. and Mrs. John S. Gibson and Mrs. Jennie McWilliams had as Sunday guests, Miss Margery Bell and Fred Gibbs of Little Rock.

Mr. and Mrs. John Wellborn had as house guests for the week end, Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Glass and J. H. Glass Jr. of Conway, Miss Minon Glass and Buenos Sikes of Hot Springs and John S. Glass of Magnolia. On Sunday afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Wellborn and house guests motored to Nashville to attend the wedding of John S. Glass of Magnolia to Miss Ruth Garrison of that city. The ceremony was held at the home of Mrs. Clyde Williamson, aunt of the bride. Following the ceremony the guests left for their respective homes. Mrs. J. H. Glass returning to this city for a longer visit with her daughter, Mrs. John Wellborn and Mr. Wellborn.

Currier Gibson of San Angelo, Texas arrived Monday morning for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Gibson Sr., remaining until after the Golden Anniversary celebration of the John S. Gibson Drug Co., on Wednesday, January 15.

The Pre-School Study Group will meet Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Mac Duffie on South Elm street. A most interesting program is being prepared on "The Child That is Afraid," led by Mrs. Jack Sullivan. Little Miss Sue Henry will favor the meeting with a reading. All members are urged to be present.

The Jo Vesey Circle of the Missionary society of the First Methodist church held its January meeting at the home of Mrs. R. L. Branch.

Mrs. Fred Harrison presided. Mrs. Lawrence Martin gave a very interesting program consisting of stories from the missionary fields told by Miss Janice Ward, Mrs. R. L. Branch, and Miss Lorraine Whitehurst; a reading by little Marion Mouser, and a piano solo by Harriet Story. After a business meeting in which plans for the year were discussed, delightful refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. McMath.

Plans Experimental Farm HUGOTON, Kas.—(AP)—Kansas will establish its first state experimental farm near Meade. County Agent Andrew Earlhart will be in charge. The farm is in the "dust bowl" area.

During the last summer more than 30,000,000 Americans went traveling, either by train, bus, boat, auto, or plane. It was the greatest summer travel record since 1929.

Hall Bros.
CLEANERS & HATTERS
Real Dry Cleaning lengthens wear also keeps apparel immaculate and clean.

Court Decision on AAA Shatters All

Federal Government Has No Power to Control Individual Farmer

By HERBERT PLUMMER
Associated Press Correspondent
WASHINGTON.—The six-three decision of the supreme court which swept AAA so completely overboard makes it possible for the Republicans to proceed forthwith in formulating their farm program.

GOP leaders in congress weeks ago approached experts on agricultural legislation in the various farm organizations for their advice on what should be done. They were told to wait until the court had spoken on AAA.

Few of the farm organization leaders believed the supreme court would scuttle AAA so completely. There was some doubt in their minds as to the constitutionality of the processing tax, but they were confident some method could be devised to cope with an adverse decision in this respect.

It was an open secret that AAA officials had a variety of plans on tap ready for immediate submission to congress. The sweeping declaration of the majority of the justices, however, that AAA "invades the reserved rights of states" and that "it is a statutory plan to regulate and control agricultural production, a matter beyond the powers delegated to the federal government" rendered them useless.

Overwhelming Decision
The absence of expression on the part of high administration officials as to plans for the future indicate how completely overwhelmed all were by the court's decision.

Had the court gone even so far as to rule against use of the federal spending power in any way that would lead directly or indirectly to a control of farm production, AAA officials were prepared.

Congress would have been asked to approve grants to individual states that enacted laws, under their state constitutions, to provide uniform voluntary methods for acreage control in farming, along the present lines.

The states then would be offered federal grants just as they are given funds for road building and education now.

But that is believed impossible in view of the supreme court's flat assertion that "congress has no power to enforce its commands on the farmer to the ends sought by the agricultural adjustment act."

What the future holds for the farmer himself in view of the scuttling of AAA is a subject of debate among agricultural leaders in and out of the administration.

Some contend AAA was not wholly responsible for helping the farmer out of his troubles.

Others argue that benefit payments and the building of machinery for farm production control must be given the credit for prosperity in the agricultural sections of the country.

Wiley Post Took

(Continued from page one)

oil and there was no danger of the ship's burning.

He turned his attention to getting out of his suit, which he could accomplish only with help, and then saw a man busy at an automobile, his head under its raised hood. Apparently the man was having engine trouble of his own and had not heard Wiley land.

Wiley's suit was worth its weight in gold in the stratosphere, but it was not designed for hiking. By the time he had covered the distance between the Winnie Mae and the airplane, Wiley was almost worn out. Though he

Higher Flying Forseen
NEW YORK.—Can you picture huge airliners hurtling through the sky at altitudes of 55,000 feet or more, carrying passengers garbed in their regular street clothes?

Can you picture squadrons of military and naval pursuit flyers, wearing mysterious "Men from Mars" suits, rocketing at tremendous speeds in the stratosphere to form America's first line of defense?

Billy Parker, noted pilot of the southwest, forecasts these developments in a graphic series, "Wiley Post Magellan of the Stratosphere," beginning today in The Star.

was now beside the car the man had not looked up. Wiley touched him on the shoulder and the man jumped as though he had been shot.

"Men from Mars"

He evidently considered himself the only occupant of the entire desert, and when he saw that strange helmeted figure, with eyes peering at him through a four-inch glass porthole, he believed he was seeing things.

He started to run, hesitated, and looked back. He saw the Winnie Mae then, resting without landing gear on the old lake bed and, as he took in the situation, evidently concluded that Wiley was not badly hurt.

He returned and tried to get the flyer to lie down. Post finally managed to explain the helmet was part of his flying equipment and was not part of the airplane wrapped round his neck. In due time Wiley was out of the suit and dressed again in his street clothes.

His Murdoc lake helper later explained he thought Post was a "man from Mars."

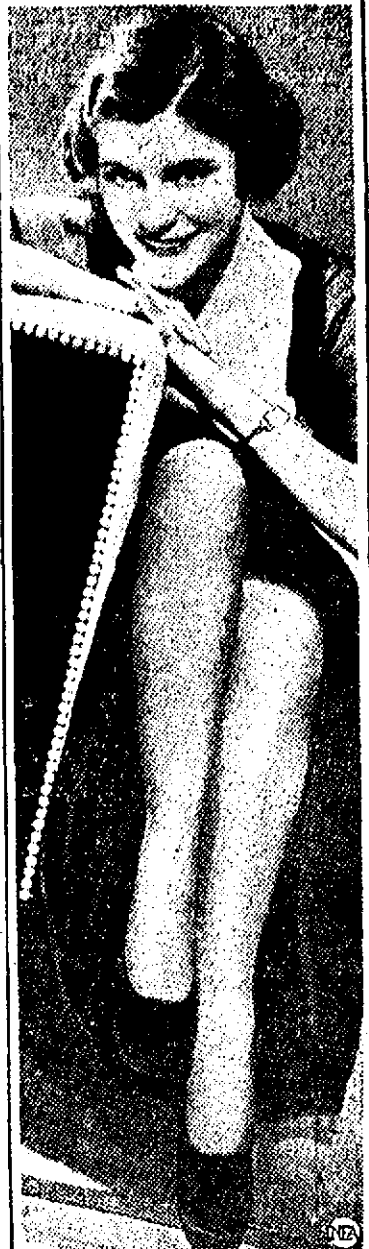

Throughout my experiences with the Post stratosphere flights over a period of many months, this was the only amusing incident and Wiley alone was there to enjoy it. In his quiet way he enjoyed it hugely.

"Fillings in Motor"

The landing on Murdoc lake was the beginning of a series of disappointments which all had their genesis in sabotage prior to his flight, when someone put more than a pound of carborundum cuttings in the ship's external supercharger.

When Post cut in his supercharger

Hollywood's First Leap Year-itel

Displaying a dazzling engagement ring, lovely Adrienne Marden, above, laid claim to being Hollywood's first actress to make a leap year proposal.

Her fiancé—a young Washington diplomat whom Adrienne refused to identify because "his career might be jeopardized"—sent her the ring after she wrote on a New Year's card: "Why wait any longer?"

at about 30,000 feet, these filings went immediately into the combustion chamber of the engine and it was only a matter of minutes until the engine was virtually a wreck.

Before continuing the story of the flights, it might be well to tell how Wiley came to start his stratosphere experiments.

Wiley's own words to me were that everyone in the aviation industry was talking about the possibilities of strat-

CLUB NOTES

Melrose
Melrose Home Demonstration club met with Mrs. Josh Rogers Thursday, January 9, with 11 members, one new member and one visitor present.

Belton
The Belton home demonstration club met at the home of Mrs. J. L. Eley Wednesday, January 8, at 2 p. m.

Hauptmann Loses

(Continued from page one)

doubts that he could act to prolong Hauptmann's life.

His statement, made at Burlington, N. J., was amplified by an announcement from his press aide, which said it was "not indicative of any decision by the governor and refers solely to the fact that a long line of governors have exercised the reprieve after apparently expiration of the 90-day period."

Despite this, Col. Mark G. Kimbrell, principal keeper of the state prison, said he was proceeding with preparations for the execution Friday night. He had no official intimation, he said, that any action necessitating delay would be taken.

Announcement Saturday by William Conklin, press aide of the governor, that the latter would request Attorney General David T. Wilentz to take Dr. John F. (Jasie) Condon into custody for further questioning in the kidnap case implied the governor might delay the execution until Condon could return from a South American cruise.

The attorney general retired, however, that he contemplated no action regarding Condon.

osphere flights, but that no one had ever done anything about it.

He had learned on his long hops around the world that he could attain greater speed in the higher altitudes. However, there was a limit to all this with the equipment he was then flying, because his engine lost power rapidly as the altitude increased.

Tomorrow—How Post designed his "Man from Mars" suit.

BIGGEST LIAR

Champion of all liars and proud of it is Fibber McGee, shown here after he had won his crown in the annual competition of the Burlington, Wis., Liars' Club, in which scores of talented prevaricators told their tallest stories. The club, started in 1929 as a joke, now has stretched around the world.

Presbyterian Men to Dine Tuesday Night

The Ladies Auxiliary of the First Presbyterian church will entertain the Men of the Church organization with a turkey dinner at the church at 7:15 o'clock Tuesday night, it was announced Monday.

Still Coughing?

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with CROMULSION. Serious trouble may be brewing and you cannot afford to take a chance with anything less than CROMULSION, which goes right to the seat of the trouble to aid nature to soothe and heal the inflamed membranes as the germ-laden phlegm is loosened and expelled.

Even if other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged, your druggist is authorized to guarantee CROMULSION and to refund your money if you are not satisfied with results from the very first bottle. Get CROMULSION right now. (Adv.)

Congress to Move for Curb on Court

Would Prohibit Constitutionality Issue Except Between States

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—A drive to curtail the powers of the Supreme Court without resorting to a constitutional amendment was planned over the week-end in a meeting of a small bloc of house members.

Representative Cross, Democrat, of Texas, said that he was "sure" he could obtain a hearing "in the next week or two" by the house judiciary committee on his bill to forbid an inferior court to pass upon the constitutionality of an act of congress and to bar the Supreme Court from ruling on constitutionality in any case coming to it on appeal.

A Democratic leader said the party leadership was canvassing the possibilities of such a proposal. He said he was convinced that congress had the power under the constitution to pass such legislation.

It would be based on a clause in Section 2 of Article 3 which says: "In all cases affecting ambassadors, other public ministers and consuls, and those in which a state shall be a party, the supreme court shall have original jurisdiction. In all the other cases before mentioned, the supreme court shall have appellate jurisdiction, both as to law and fact, with such exceptions, and under regulations as the congress shall make."

Cross said: "This would mean that only a state could attack the constitutionality of an act of congress by filing an original suit in the supreme court."

Henry Clay Yerger Fractures His Hip

Veteran Hope Negro School Teacher Slips on Linoleum in Home

Henry Clay Yerger, who last fall celebrated his 50th anniversary as head of the negro schools of Hope, slipped on the floor of his home Sunday and fractured his right hip.

At his home Monday, 309 South Hazel street, he was confined to his bed. Attendants said that he was resting well.

The aged negro school teacher slipped on a new linoleum that had been placed on the bedroom floor.

The rows of kernels on an ear of corn are always in even numbers.

Special for this Week
5-tube RADIO
Made by G-E $9.98
Has Airplane Dial.
Complete With Tubes
BRIANT'S Drug Store

CAR GLASS
CUT AND GROUND TO FIT ANY CAR
BRYAN'S Used Parts
411 South Laurel Street

Bargain! 15 pounds
of WASHING
49c
NEW DAME WASHING
NELSON-HUCKINS
LAUNDRY COMPANY

Night Coughs

Quickly checked without "dosing." Just rub on VICKS VapoRub

EVERYDAY HEALTH NEEDS

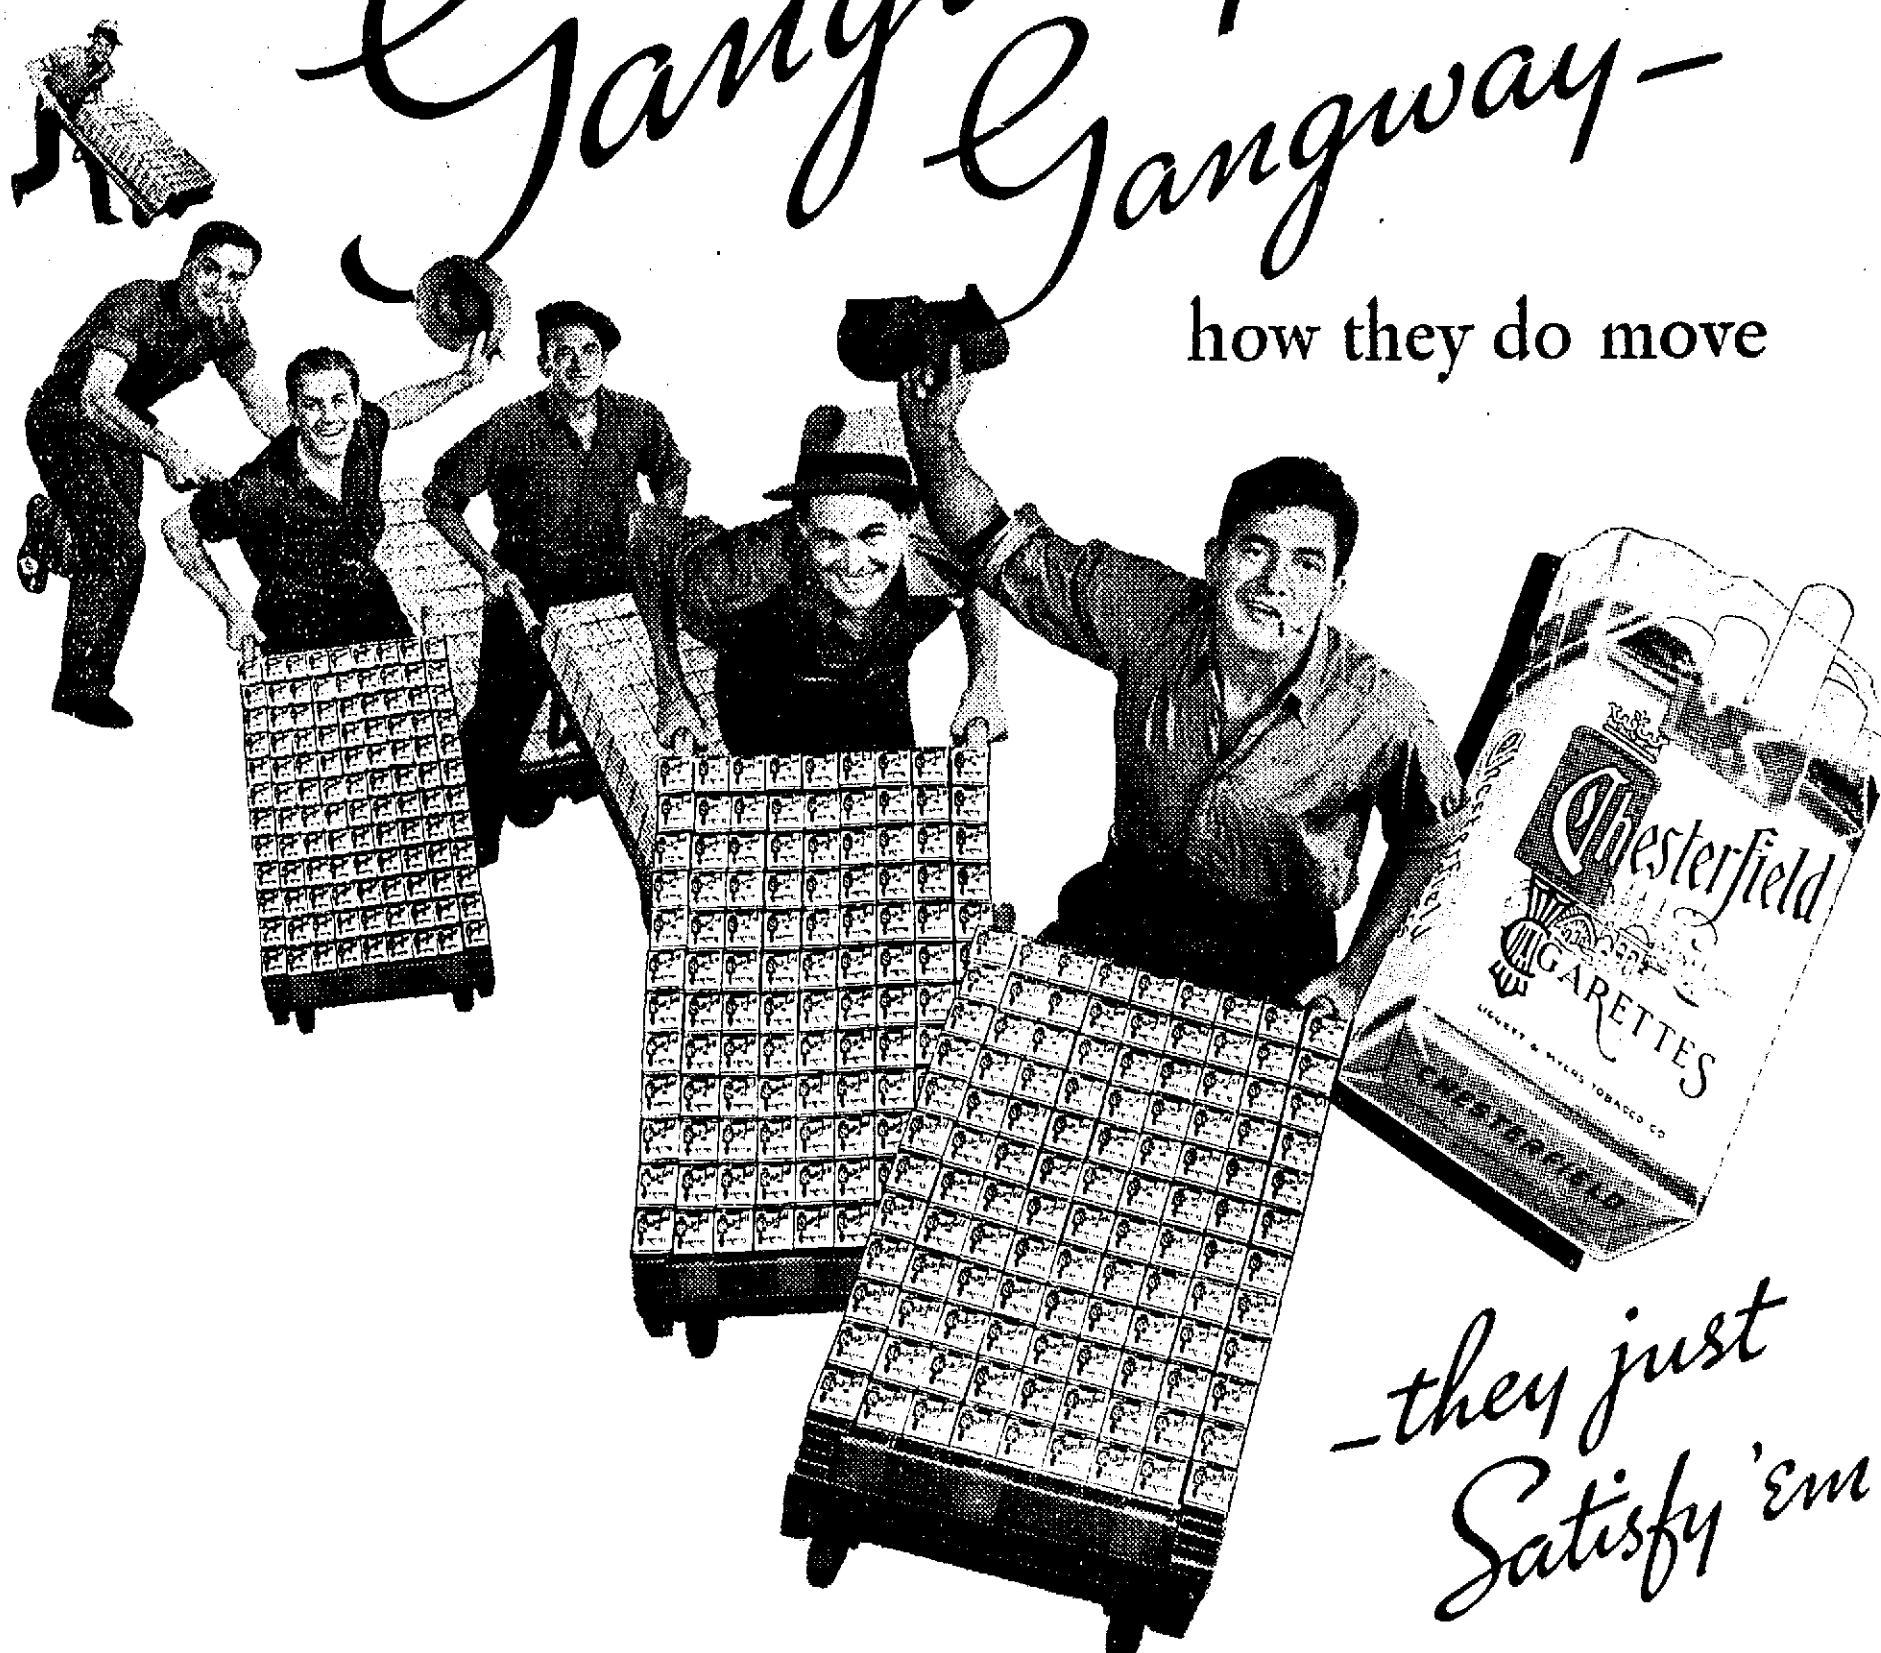

—SPECIALLY REDUCED FOR THIS WEEK—

Pepsodent Tooth Paste, large size 39c
Kleenex, 500 sheet package 29c
Tasty-Lax, Choc. laxative, 2-25c pks. both for 25c
McKesson Milk of Magnesia, 16 oz. 39c
McKesson quarts of Heavy Mineral Oil 89c
Rubbing Alcohol, full pint bottle 25c
Developing and printing any size roll of films only 25c. 5 x 7 tinted enlargement only 25c

John P. Cox Drug Co.
Phone 84 We Give Eagle Stamps

Gangway—Gangway—

how they do move

AUTO SUPPLY CO.

Moves to

NEW LOCATION

at

208 South Elm Street

(Formerly Occupied by Arkansas Printing and Stationery Co.)

UP TO 33 1/3 % OFF ON ODDS and ENDS TO 33 1/3 % OFF and BROKEN STOCK

We have moved from our location on East Third street to a larger and more convenient location on South Elm. We are now able to give you an even better and more complete service.

In our moving we found a lot of odds and ends and broken stocks which we are closing out at reductions up to 33 1-3 %.

AUTO SUPPLY CO.

Roy Crain

208 S. Elm

Famous Novelist

HORIZONTAL

1 Man who wrote "Robinson Crusoe."

10 To be indebted.

11 To shower.

12 Team.

13 Upon.

14 Affection.

15 Child's napkin.

16 Sage.

17 Breakwater.

18 To possess.

19 Pretentious rural mansion.

20 Certain.

21 Pine fruit.

22 Starched.

23 Conjunction.

24 Tardy.

25 Brings legal proceedings.

26 Nunter pronoun.

27 Woman.

28 Toet.

29 Musical note.

30 Remedy.

31 Wind.

32 Cat.

33 Leered.

34 Market.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

WILLIAM A. VEALES
KAVALE'S INTO YOU
YEN BETHINK YOU
ROIL LAIR
INNER TOE WILLIAM
GAIN IN BUTLER
SO FOOT C YEATS AR
RD TORSE
SLAG NEEDS FATE
CODES AMA BIDES
DOET DIRECTOR

game.

19 Ballot choice.

20 Crusoe was a shipwrecked.

21 Arrived.

22 To scatter.

23 Exalts.

24 — was

25 Crusoe's companion.

26 Fat.

27 Seasoning.

28 Combat between two persons.

29 Barley spikelet.

30 Northeast.

31 Notched.

32 To bathe.

33 To perish.

34 Half an em.

35 Bay window.

36 Splay of a door.

37 To dwell.

38 And is famous.

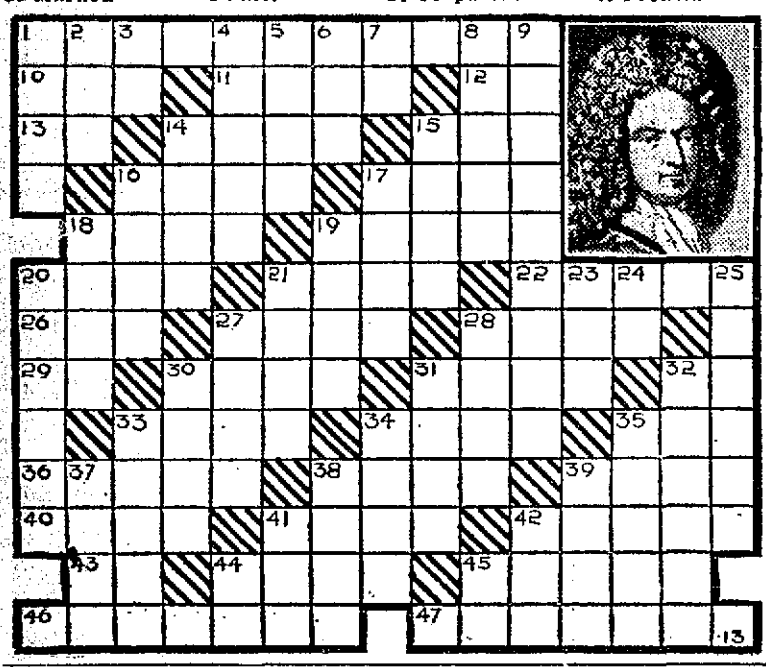

39 Status of a minor.

40 today (pl.).

41 Evergreen tree.

42 To pursue.

43 French.

Spring Hill

Trenton Keel of Washington was a guest of his sister Mrs. Edna Foley, Saturday night and Sunday. Harvey Kirkpatrick of Texas was visiting his friends here Sunday. Rev. Floyd Clark filled his appointment Sunday at 11 o'clock and Sunday night. Mrs. Earlie Archer and children and her mother, Mrs. Robertson, were

Sell It! Find It! Rent It! Buy It! in the Hope Star

MARKET PLACE

Remember, the more you tell, the quicker you sell.
1 time, 10c line, min. 30c

For consecutive insertions, minimum of 3 lines in one ad
3 times, 6c line, min. 50c
6 times, 5c line, min. 50c
26 times, 3 1/2c line, min. $2.70
(Average 5 1/2 words to the line)

NOTE—Want ads will be accepted with the understanding that the bill is payable on presentation of statement, before the first publication.

Phone 768

WANTED

MAN OR WOMAN
Wanted to supply customers with famous Watkins Products in Prescott. No investment. Business established, earnings average $25 weekly, pay starts immediately. Write J. R. Watkins Co., 70-86 W. Iowa Ave., Memphis, Tenn.

WANTED: I am buying fat hogs, any size. J. V. Moore at Moore's Market. 13-3tp.

NOTICE

WANTED TO TRADE

WANTED TO TRADE—A 35 Horsepower Boiler for a 20 or 25 horsepower boiler. Mary E. Austin, Blevins, Ark. 10-3tp.

WANTED TO BUY

WANTED TO BUY: An oil stove cheap. Must be in good condition. Mrs. Ella Gold, Washington, Ark. 10-3tp.

FOR RENT

FOR RENT—Nice front bedroom, garage, in desirable home. Close in, no other roomers. 505 South Walnut. 13-3tc

FOR RENT—Comfortable bed room, with adjoining bath and close in. Phone 505-W. 9-3tc

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—A Bargain in a five foot bath tub, with tank and heater. See Vincent Foster. 10-2tp

FOR SALE—One Thousand Young Berry Plants for immediate delivery. World's finest flavored berry crossed between the Logan berry and Dew berry. Average 36 select berries to the quart. Also 500 October Cling Stone Peach Seedlings from old time trees. H. D. Coffman, Edgewood and Sixth street, Hope, Ark.

ROE'S HATCHERY

Baby chicks for sale. Custom hatching a specialty. Call or write Mrs. Fred L. Gordon, Prescott, Ark. 11-2tc down from Hope Sunday and attended services and took dinner with Alvin Robertson and family.

Sam Prather and family of Smackover spent the week end with home-folks, and Hugh Garner and wife. Mrs. Ewing Reed of Battlefield spent the day with her mother and Mrs. Frank Hill Friday.

Mrs. Bracy Smith and son William spent Saturday with Mrs. Arch Turner and sister. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Collins visited with Mrs. Roy Collins and children Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Smith have moved to the McDowell farm and Ezra McDowell and wife have moved back to Spring Hill.

Walter Powell and wife and J. W. Turner and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Giles Foster.

We are having some good farming weather, some of our farmers are already plowing and planting some early gardens.

Three Rocky Mountain ranges have been formed and then worn away by the action of water during the last 30,000,000 years, according to Dr. W. W. Atwood, of Worcester, Mass.

Legal Notice

NOTICE OF SALE OF LANDS FOR BENEFIT OF STATE

Notice is hereby given that, as executor of the estate of T. F. Hughes St. Estate, deceased, I will between the hours of ten o'clock in the forenoon and three o'clock in the afternoon on the 8th day of February, 1936, at the Post Office in the city of Emmet, Arkansas, offer for sale at public auction to the highest bidder, upon a credit of three months the following described lands, to-wit: Fractional part of North East 1/4 of North West 1/4 of Section 4 Twp. 9 S. Range 23 W. 16 acres more or less in Hempstead.

Purchaser at such sale will be required to give note with security to be approved by me, and lien upon said lands will be retained for the payment of the purchase money. Dated this 13 day of Jan. 1936. F. A. Hughes (Executor)

E. A. Watson

Jan. 13, 20, 27.

Want It Printed RIGHT? Call 768

We'll have a printing expert call on you, and you'll have an economical, high quality job. Whatever your needs, we can serve them.

Star Publishing COMPANY
"Printing That Makes an Impression"

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

"REGARDING YOUR IDEA OF MAKING ELECTRIC LIGHT BULBS IN THE SHAPE OF DRINKING GLASSES—WE THINK IT NOVEL AND INGENIOUS, BUT NOT PRACTICAL FOR OUR—"

WELL, DRAT THEM! I OFFERED THE IDEA TO THEM FOR $5000—PRACTICALLY A GIFT!

WELL, COMON, IF YOU WANT ME TO GO WITH YOU, AS YOUR LAWYER, TO THE TAILOR, OVER THAT $17 BILL!—BUT I TELL YOU, HE'S GOT YOU BY THE PANTS, ON IT!

HAW—I'LL START MY OWN FACTORY AND PUT THEM ALL OUT OF BUSINESS! HEH HEH—

FAW!

3-BIG BUSINESS HOOPLE

© 1936 BY NEA SERVICE, INC. T. M. REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

By AHERN

OUT OUR WAY

YOU REMEMBER, I GAVE YOU THREE DOLLARS FROM MY PAPER ROUTE MONEY, TO KEEP FOR ME! THEN, A COUPLE DAYS LATER, I GOT FIFTY CENTS OF IT—THEN, A LITTLE LATER, I GOT A DOLLAR—THE NEXT WAS A QUARTER—THEN I GOT FIFTY CENTS—AND THE LAST WAS A QUARTER—SO YOU STILL OWE ME FIFTY CENTS. FIGGER IT UP!

IT'S FUNNY YOU DON'T DO SO WELL WITH ARITHMETIC IN SCHOOL. YOU'RE GOOD IN DEALING WITH ME—VERY GOOD, TOO GOOD!

WHY MOTHERS GET GRAY.

© 1936 BY NEA SERVICE, INC. T. M. REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

By WILLIAM

BOOTS AND HER BUDDIES

NO WONDER BOOTS HAS BEEN SO EXCITED!

FRANZ, THE GLAMOROUS, ROMANTIC CROWN PRINCE OF GRANDALIA, WHOM BOOTS ALWAYS HAS CALLED MISTER X—

REMEMBER HIM?

Not So Long Ago

© 1936 BY NEA SERVICE, INC. T. M. REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

Not So Long Ago

By MARTIN

ALLEY OOP

THERE YARE, FOOZY—TIME T'TELL THAT Y'DIDN'T HURT YER—LATER—WE STILL SELF, DIDJA? SAY—HOW'D YOU COME T'BE TH' BIG MOGUL OF THAT GANG BACK THERE?

THOSE GUYS CATCH US, OUR GOOSE'LL BE DONE!

© 1936 BY NEA SERVICE, INC. T. M. REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

I WAS PICKED UP LIKE THEY PICKED UP YOU—BUT I GIVE THEM A LINE OF ROOTILTEEDOO! SOMEWAY OR OTHER THEY GOT IMPRESSED AN' THOUGHT THAT I, MUCH MAGIC POSSESSED—

© 1936 BY NEA SERVICE, INC. T. M. REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

Too Much on His Mind

OH, I SAVVY—THAT'S TH' IDEA, AN' AN' SO THEY I WAS DOIN' RIGHT MADE YOU A KING OR SOMPIN. EH?

WELL, TILL YOU CAME ALONG AN' GUMMED IT UP SWELL—

© 1936 BY NEA SERVICE, INC. T. M. REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

By HAMLIN

HEY—DOGGONE! I SAY—WHAT'S WRONG?

HOYKAWOW! I PLUMB FORGOT! I LEFT OOOOLA AN' DINNY ALONE IN TH' JUNGLE!

© 1936 BY NEA SERVICE, INC. T. M. REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

WASH TUBBS

BOYS, THERE'S A GUY, NAMED EASY, RUNNIN' FOR SHERIFF. HE AIMS TO CLEAN UP THE TOWN, AND HE'S SURE TO BE ELECTED, UNLESS.

OH, NO HE AINT.

WE'LL TAKE CARE OF THAT MUG.

YEAH, AN' IN A BIG WAY.

© 1936 BY NEA SERVICE, INC. T. M. REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

Opposition

WHOA! HOLD ON! THAT AINT THE WAY TO PREVENT HIS ELECTION. WE'LL PUT UP A CANDIDATE OF OUR OWN.

© 1936 BY NEA SERVICE, INC. T. M. REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

By COWAN

AND WE'LL SEE THAT OUR CANDIDATE IS ELECTED. THEN WE'RE SAFE FOR YEARS TO COME.

SURE, THAT'S THE WAY.

AND WE'LL PICK A CANDIDATE WHO'S RIGHT.

© 1936 BY NEA SERVICE, INC. T. M. REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

STAND BACK, YOU KIDS.... HE'S A WILD COLT, AND THOSE HOOFES ARE LIKE LIGHTNING!!

YEAH....BECAUSE LIGHTNING NEVER STRIKES THE SAME PLACE TWICE...ON ACCOUNT OF AFTER IT STRIKES ONCE, THE PLACE AINT THERE!

© 1936 BY NEA SERVICE, INC. T. M. REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

THE LONGER WE LET HIM KICK, THE MEANER HE'LL BE! HE'S GOT TO BE RIDDEN BY SOME-ONE, TO SHOW HIM WHO HIS MASTER IS!!

© 1936 BY NEA SERVICE, INC. T. M. REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

Tough

TAG OUGHTA BE FIRST, BUT I'M AFRAID HE'D GET THROWN ON HIS EAR!

I CAN BREAK THAT NAG!

DON'T YOU WANT TO GO ON RIDING, FUZZY?

NO, THANKS...I THINK I'LL SIT THIS NEXT ONE OUT!!

© 1936 BY NEA SERVICE, INC. T. M. REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

By CRANE

THE NEWFANGLES (Mom'n Pop)

HUM-M-BY JOVE! THERE HE COMES, AGAIN!

© 1936 BY NEA SERVICE, INC. T. M. REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

One Way of Doing It

HELLO, NEIGHBOR! IT SEEMS T'ME THAT EVERY TIME I SEE YOU, YOU'RE DOING A SPRINT OUT THAT DOOR!

© 1936 BY NEA SERVICE, INC. T. M. REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

By BLOSSER

OH, THAT'S JUST ONE WAY I HAVE OF TAKIN' MY CONSTITUTIONAL!

YOU MEAN THAT'S THE WAY YOU KEEP YOURSELF IN SHAPE?

© 1936 BY NEA SERVICE, INC. T. M. REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

By BLOSSER

WELL, NOT EXACTLY, BUT IT'S ONE WAY OF KEEPIN' MY HEAD FROM GETTIN' OUT OF SHAPE!

© 1936 BY NEA SERVICE, INC. T. M. REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

Pace That Kills, Hollywood's Peril

John Gilbert Latest to Be Cut Down Before Reaching Prime of Life

LOS ANGELES, Calif.—(AP)—Madcap Hollywood kills many a film celebrity who gave it glamour, health authorities observed Sunday.

John Gilbert, once "the great lover of the screen," was the latest of those who died before 40. He was 38.

Others were Norman, 43; Lilyan Tashman, 44; Rudolph Valentino, 31; Renee Adoree, 35; Jack Pickford, 30; Jeanne Eagles, 33; Wallace Reid, 32; Larry Simon, 38; Walter Hiers, 35; Fred Thomson, 37; Alvin Rubens, 33; and Barbara La Marr, 28.

Here are the answers as to what killed them by Dr. J. L. Pomeroy, county health officer for 20 years:

"It's a combination of too strenuous a life and insufficient rest. Rich food and persistently late hours in both work and play prove costly. The heart is affected as a result."

"Rudolph Valentino died from gastric ulcer, common in people who live under high tension caused by irregular eating and insufficient rest."

"John Gilbert was led to his death by a broken heart. The toll of being out of work a year breaks a man who has been as popular as he was. Nervous depression aggravates heart attacks and kills many like him."

Townsend Plan to Be Made "Rider"

Proponents Expect to Tack it on Some House Bill as Amendment

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Congressional backers of the Townsend $200-a-month pension plan for the aged were said over the week-end by Representative McGovern, Democrat, California, to have agreed to offer the program as an amendment to house legislation at the first opportunity.

McGovern, who introduced the Townsend bill in congress, said that around 60 supporters of the plan favored that strategy rather than an attempt to force the bill to the floor for a vote by petition requiring the signatures of a majority of house members.

After a conference with Dr. F. E. Townsend, author of the plan, McGovern said he had been told that an average of 250 new Townsend clubs were being organized weekly.

Center Point

Idyllic Health is good in this community at this writing.

We are glad to see the sun shine again.

Misses Lorene and Irene Wright spent Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Hollis Mullins.

Miss Azleen Wilson spent Tuesday night with Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Jones.

Mrs. Zettie Wilson and daughter and Miss Mina Marie Hubbard spent Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Hollis Mullins.

Misses Delora Sparks and Rena Nell Mullins of Oak Grove spent Saturday night with Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Jones and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Wise and Miss Rena Nell Mullins and Delora Sparks were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Mullins.

Hollis, Vernon and Logan Hendrix and Miss Dovie Hendrix spent Saturday night and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Wash Hendrix.

Mrs. A. W. Meadows spent Friday afternoon with Mrs. Marion Hubbard.

Constipated 30 Years. Aided By Old Remedy

"For thirty years I had constipation. Suffering from stomach choked me. Since taking Atterika I am a new person. Constipation is a thing of the past."—Alice Burns.

John S. Gibson Drug Co.

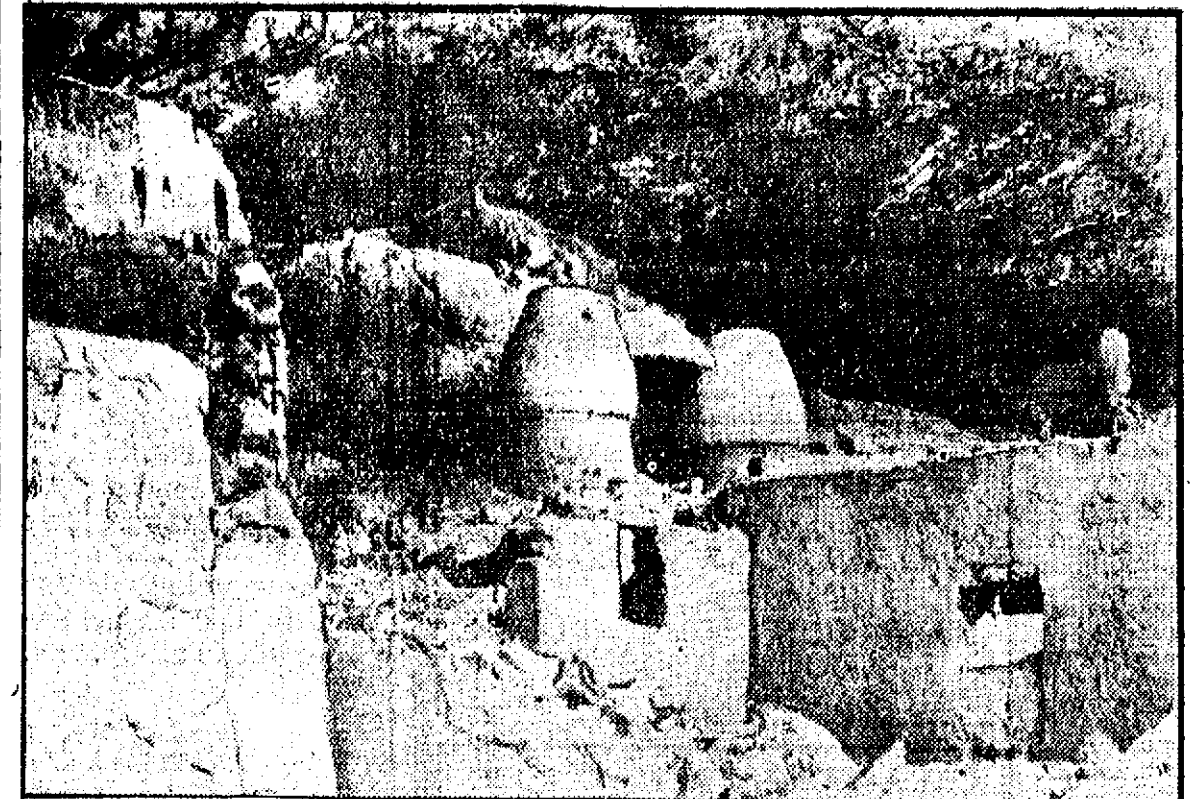

For All Kinds of INSURANCE
See
Roy Anderson and Company

T O L - E - T E X
OIL COMPANY
Special—5 Gal. Hi-Grade $1.50
Lube Oil
Phone 370 Day and Night

QUALITY SEEDS — PLANTS
Everything for Field and Garden including supplies, insecticides, spray materials, etc.
For Heavy Yields Use
SEMESAN
Mont's Seed Store
119 E. 2nd St.

Stop That Cough
WITH
CHERROSOTE
The best remedy for simple coughs and gastric fermentative we have.
8 oz. Bottle 60c
JOHN S. GIBSON
Drug Company
"The Rexall Store"
Phone 63
Hope, Ark. Established 1885

Ancient Ruins Yield Mummies of Giants and Pygmies

These crumbling ruins of a long-perished city, where mummified human forms revealed that seven-foot giants and three-foot pygmies apparently lived together, were found by Paxson C. Hayes, ethnologist who has spent the last seven years exploring the upland wastes of northern Mexico. The architecture is of a type never before discovered, resembling that of cliff dwellings, but with distinct Mongolian features. The strange civilization is believed to antedate that of the Mayas. Hayes plans an expedition for a thorough search of the huge caves in Sonora, 400 miles from Hermosillo City.

McGovern's Fists Clear Path to Fame for Harris, Humphreys

Ring Ballyhoo Is Born With Quick Rise of Brooklyn Boy—3 Champs Put to Sleep by "Little Mick"

(This is the second of six articles on Joe Humphreys, daddy of sports announcers.)

By HARRY GRAYSON
Sports Editor, NEA Service

NEW YORK—To Sam Harris and Joe Humphreys, boxing started and finished with Terrible Terry McGovern. They skyrocketed to national renown behind the flying fists of the fiery Irish kid from the south Brooklyn slums.

When the Horton law took pugilism out of the loft and barge stage in New York in 1897, legalized it for the first time anywhere, the gay young blade, Joe Humphreys, became match-maker and announcer at Johnny Oates' old South Beach A. C.

Between productions, such as they were, Joe the Beau ran up to Hartford to give a pair of promoters named Crowley and Harris a lift.

The Harris was Sam H. Harris, and he was destined to go a long way.

Like Humphreys, he was a child of the teeming tenements, left to shift for himself at 11. News, errand, messenger boy and whatnot, Harris had developed the business of supplying towels to New York officers when Humphreys first bumped into him. He also managed a bantamweight named George Monroe and had been bitten by the theatrical bug, an inclination that was to take him to a dizzy height.

The Birth of Ballyhoo
When McGovern knocked out Monroe in 24 rounds in 1898, the shrewd Harris promptly engineered a deal that quickly put Terrible Terry and himself in the more important money. He became the handler of McGovern, with Humphreys as his first lieutenant.

McGovern was an amazing warrior and in building the little vegetable peddler as an attraction Harris showed the skill that was to make him one of the most successful theatrical producers of all time.

Ballyhoo was born with the McGovern-Harris-Humphreys combination. Harris-Humphreys combination, Harris imported Pedlar Palmer from England to fight McGovern for the world bantam championship at Tucker, September 12, 1899.

Palmer and his manager, Poppy Battinson, were met at the pier by a brass band, a long procession of carriages, and scores of celebrities. A Broadway banquet followed, with the band screaming Palmer's hotel far into the night and hired hands circling the block with flares.

There was a splurge of publicity; the entire country talked, and there were special trains from Philadelphia, Boston, Buffalo, Providence, Hartford, and other cities.

Terrible Terry Hits Peak
McGovern flattened Palmer in 2 minutes and 32 seconds despite the fact that the Little Box of Tricks got a 30-second rest when someone who had bet on him pulled the cord at the first knockdown.

McGovern followed this up by stopping George Dixon, the featherweight champion, and ironing out Frank Erne, the lightweight leader, all within 10 months. Erne did 128 bouts. McGovern went on to knock out Joe Bernstein, a top contender; beat Kid Broad, and knocked out Joe Gans, then at his peak, in a questionable affair that killed boxing in Chicago.

Not yet 21 and weighing more than 122 pounds, McGovern was considered too formidable for anybody under 149 pounds, when along came Young Corbett.

McGovern had spent an entire summer and fall in the show business when the cocky Corbett finished him with a right cross counter in the second round at Hartford on the afternoon of Thanksgiving Day, November 28, 1901.

Humphreys declares that Terrible Terry had trouble with his wife, and Corbett's colossal nerve got under his thin Irish skin.

On the way to the ring, Corbett, a short-ender at 1-5, knocked on the door of McGovern's dressing room and said: "Hey, Terry. Come on out, Terry, and take your licking!"

McGovern never was the same after that. He traveled all the way to San Francisco in an attempt to even his score with Corbett on March 31, 1903, but the same thing happened after he had been badly beaten for 11 rounds.

Following his victory over Palmer, McGovern starred in "The Gay Morning Glories," "The Fatal Wedding," "The Bower After Dark," "The Road to Ruin," and "Fame and Fortune." Humphreys had a bit in

Ex-Mayor Hylan of New York Dies

Tammany Chieftain One of Few to Successfully Oppose Al Smith

NEW YORK—(AP)—John F. Hylan, 68, a farm boy who ran $1.50 into a comfortable fortune and twice was elected mayor of New York, died Sunday from heart disease at his home in Forest Hills, Long Island.

A Democrat, Hylan first was elected mayor of New York in 1917, and his re-election for a second term saw initiation of the since perennial campaign—made famous by a later mayor, James J. Walker—to save the five-cent transportation fare.

Mayor Hylan was never friendly with Alfred E. Smith, and opposed him nomination for governor in 1922. He was in almost constant conflict with civic clubs, and in one instance his accusations precipitated a libel suit.

Presence of Mind

Mrs. Peck: "We have been married twenty years today, John."

John (with a sigh): "Yes, for twenty years we have fought—"

Mrs. Peck (scowling): "What?"
John (quickly): "Life's battles together, dear."

34 Drown as Ship Grounds in Storm

Freighter Wrecked on Oregon Coast With Tragic Loss of Life

FORTLAND, Ore.—The crew of 34 of States Lines steamer Iowa perished Sunday and only a portion of the vessel, which grounded near Peacock Spit at the mouth of the Columbia river, remains in the roaring breakers.

The United States Coast Guard cutter Onondaga, which returned to port after an unsuccessful battle to aid the stricken Iowa, took a beating in the effort and one of her lifeboats was smashed. She was unable to get near the Iowa. Only the foremast of the Iowa could be seen.

Bodies picked up thus far gave evidence of the terrific pounding of the seas. The clothes were torn, one man had a gaping wound in his neck and was scoured from contact with the wreckage which was floating ashore.

Beachcombers lined the shore near Seaview as the wreckage floated ashore. Lumber, flour, matches and other articles in the Iowa's cargo were strewn along the beach. The board bearing the ship's name on the bridge also floated in as one of the last tragic reminders of the vessel's fate.

Blue Falls
EMPORIA, Kas.—(AP)—Emporia's traffic signals are back on the old green-yellow-red basis after a colorful venture into blue. The blue, replacing the green, was found to be practically invisible in the daylight, officials said.

The only mechanical transport of the British postoffice 20 years ago consisted of four motor-cars and one steam tractor.

Lawyer Slain in Court by Litigant

Enraged Chicago Man Also Fires at Judge Before Being Overpowered

CHICAGO—(AP)—Attorney Alex Riesenman was shot through the heart and killed Monday in a courtroom by an infuriated litigant in a civil suit.

The assailant, tentatively identified as James Kehoe, also fired at Judge Prystalski but missed. The assailant was seized by bailiffs of the court.

IN PREPARATION

By Helen Welshimer

I SHALL be calm tomorrow when you come
To say farewell—that which the heart suspects
It guards itself against, if it is wise.
Oh, from the moment that it first detects
A loved one's going, with courage it begins
To treat across the fields where love has been.
I shall be quiet and you will not guess
That my farewells are long since gathered in.

THE seasons move, unchanged in cosmic plan,
And when it is love's autumn, wisdom knows
That it is best to take the harvesting.
However scant, before the winter snows,
Not all of love may last a journey's end,
So now when leaves glow darkly down the sky,
I greet the winter, proud, beloved, that I
Gained dry my hurt before you said goodbye.

(Copyright, 1935, by NEA Service, Inc. All reprint and song rights reserved.)

READERS' SERVICE BUREAU,
Room 505, 461 Eighth Ave., New York, N. Y.

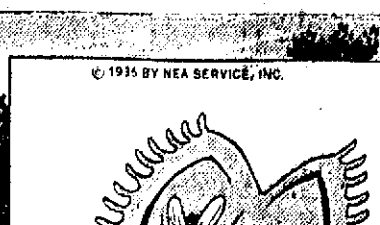

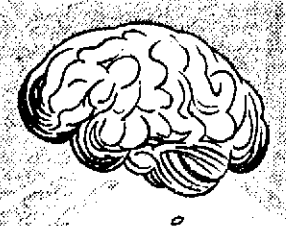

Enclosed find cents in coin for which please send me copies of "Candlelight," the new booklet of poems by Helen Welshimer, at 10 cents a copy.

Name
Street
City State
Name of Paper

THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

THE MORE VITALLY IMPORTANT OUR ORGANS ARE, THE MORE WATER THEY HAVE IN THEM/ OUR BRAINS ARE FROM 80 TO 90 PER CENT WATER/

"VENUS'S-FLYTRAP" FAMOUS CARNIVOROUS PLANT, CATCHES MORE SPIDERS THAN FLIES/ SO FAR, NO ONE HAS BEEN ABLE TO FIND OUT WHAT THE PLANT GAINS FROM ITS CARNIVOROUS HABITS.

A newly-created poem received the glad tidings in a telegram. "Hazel gave birth to a girl this morning; both doing well." On the message, was a sticker reading, "When you want a boy call Western Union."

That's Fair
Willie: "I saw you kiss my sister." Boy Friend: "Ah-er-uh-here's a quarter."
Willie: "Here's ten cents change. One price to all—that's the way I do business."

Black-Draught Relief Is Prompt and Refreshing

It's a good idea that so many people have—to keep Black-Draught handy so they can take a dose for prompt relief at the first sign of constipation.

"I have used Black-Draught a long time, about as long as I can remember, and have a package on my shelf now," writes Mr. Sherman Sneed, of Evansville, Tenn. "I take Black-Draught for constipation which causes headache, a tired feeling, biliousness, a bad taste in the mouth and sluggish feeling. Black Draught, taken about two nights, clears up this trouble and I get all right."

Black-Draught is made of medicinal herbs, dried on finely ground, but no other change in their natural condition. It is a laxative that men and women like so well because of this refreshing relief it brings in constipation troubles.

Would You Give Her A Second Chance?

Read
The Strange Case of Julia Craig
by Nard Jones

Beginning Thursday, Jan. 16th
In
Hope Star

You have established an enviable record Mr. Gibson and we extend our sincere congratulations.

Hope  Star

Sincere
Congratulations
to
John S. Gibson

Fifty successful years in business is an outstanding achievement and just cause for celebration.

We congratulate Mr. Gibson upon his record and hope our very pleasant business relationship may continue for many years to come.

Citizens National Bank

I CAN'T WORK.
MY HEAD IS SPLITTING!
WHAT'LL I DO?

SLIP OUT AND
GET AN
ALKA-SELTZER

Alkalize with
Alka-Seltzer

Happy
Birthday
Mr. Gibson

An Old Friend is Mighty
Proud of Your Achievement

For Fifty years you have served this community well . . . a truly enviable record.

We've known you for a long time and take pride in counting ourselves among your friends. We wish you many happy returns of the day.

HOPE FURNITURE COMPANY

"For Over Thirty Years"
R. V. Herndon T. S. Cornelius

YOU ARE CORDIALLY INVITED TO OUR
50th Anniversary
Celebration . . . Wednesday, Jan. 15th

We have filled over 245,800 Prescriptions and in addition we have RE-FILLED 130,000 Prescriptions.

BRITEN TOOTH PASTE
large tube . . . 25c
"The Flotation Process," (the best process known).

Don't burn up your Smoke House use
JACKSON'S MEAT SMOKER
75c quart with brush

KANTLEEK HOT WATER BOTTLES and SYRINGES
Special $1.50
Made in one piece

Stop that Cough with
CHERROSOTE
The best remedy for simple coughs we have.

Nearly as old as the Store
PARKER'S LIVER PILLS
"They work while you rest"

Stop the common old itch with Prescription
200,000

We carry a complete line of TRUSSES, ANKLETS, KNEE BRACES, etc.
Let us Fit you

FIFTY YEARS on the SAME OLD STAND

Fifty years ago we started in business in the same building we now occupy. Our creed from the start was honest and fair treatment to one and all alike. We have followed the Golden Rule and it has brought us to our Golden Anniversary. We are proud of our record and want all of our friends to help us celebrate by coming to our party on Wednesday.

JOHN S. GIBSON

More Anniversary Specials

1. Puretest Cod Liver Oil 49c
2. Puretest Aspirin Tablets bottle of 100 . . . 49c
3. Halibut Oil Capsules Box of 50 . . . 98c
4. Electrex Heating Pads $3.25
5. Vapure, the inhaant . . . 25c
6. Rexall Nose and Throat Drops . . . 25c
7. Finest Quality Hair Brushes . . . 59c
8. Brewer Yeast Tablets Bottle of 100 . . . 59c
9. Russian Mineral Oil Pints 49c Quarts 98c
10. Rubbing Alcohol Full Pint . . . 24c
11. Klenzo Coconut Oil Shampoo . . . 29c
12. Peptona a Wonderful Spring Tonic, full pint 98c

FREE CIGARS For The Men

Its Double Strength
Kills Germs . . .
Sweetens Breath!

MI 31
Antiseptic
Mouth Wash

Full Pint 49c

FREE !!
To 1000 Ladies
JANUARY 15th!
HALF-POUND SOUVENIR BOX
OF FAMOUS
JOAN MANNING CHOCOLATES!

CARA NOME FACE POWDER
Regular $2.00 Box
FREE
with each purchase of $2.00 or more
Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday

5c CANDY BARS
FREE to Children

FREE with each purchase of $1 or more!

Your choice of full lb. box of
SATURDAY
CANDY
OR—full lb. box of
MAXIE
CHERRIES
Strictly fresh and delicious!

Its FOUR-WAY action
Brings fast, lasting relief in cases of
ACID INDIGESTION

BISMA-REX
4 3/4 ounces 50c

John S. Gibson Drug Company
1886 THE REXALL STORE 1936
HOPE, ARK.

Congratulations, Mr. Gibson
Your Business Record is Outstanding and Deserves the Well Wishes of All.
May Your Success Continue for Many More Years
The Ohio Truss Company

A Youngster
Congratulates an Oldster
and Wishes Him
Many Happy
Returns
of the Day

RENNEY'S

Congratulations

to

John S. Gibson

Fifty years in business! Few testimonials can imply so much. This record is in itself evidence of the fine character and ability of the owner, the good will which the business enjoys, the value of the service it renders, and the merit of the products it handles.

We are proud to have had a small part in supplying these products.

Bush - Caldwell

Wholesale Distributors
of Sporting Goods

LITTLE ROCK

ARKANSAS

Heartiest Congratulations
to

John S. Gibson

upon his enviable record of

Fifty Successful Years

Fifty successful years in one location. Such a record is just cause for celebration and we are pleased to join with Mr. Gibson's many other friends in extending to him our sincere best wishes for continued success.

WALSH - LUMPKIN
DRUG COMPANY

Wholesale

Texarkana

Heartiest
Congratulauions
to Our Fellow Druggist

We are mighty proud of the splendid record you have established, Mr. Gibson, and we each want to extend our sincere best wishes for many happy returns of the day.

Your unique distinction of fifty years in one location is an achievement each of us would also like to attain.

BRIANT'S DRUG STORE
JOHN P. COX DRUG CO.
CRESENT DRUG CO.
MORELAND'S DRUG STORE
WARD and SON

A Splendid Record

Hats off to you, Mr. John Gibson, our friend for nearly half a century, who undaunted by the flight of time is celebrating his Golden Anniversary in business.

Fifty years in the Drug business in the same old stand, is a rare and exceptional record. Accept our warmest felicitations and congratulations.

Blackwell Wielandy
Company
Saint Louis, Missouri

WINTERSMITH'S
TONIC
for
Malaria and Ague
A Good General Tonic
Sold for More Than 65 Years